

FACULTY OF TECHNOLOGY

ACADEMIC STAFF PERFORMANCE MEASUREMENTS

Criteria	Very good	Good	Medium	Weak
Their attitude and compliance in achieving the purposes and principles specified in Articles 4 and 5 of the Higher Education Law.
Their ability in teaching, research, and application.
Foreign language knowledge.
Their success in assessing and educating students.
Their ability in monitoring, supervising, and setting an example.
Their ability in planning, organizing, and coordinating.
Adherence to discipline.
Respect for human and individual rights and tendency not to exhibit behaviors incompatible with human dignity.
Their attitude towards their superiors and colleagues.
Their diligence and honesty.
Not being influenced by language, race, gender, political thought, philosophical belief, religion, or sect differences while performing their duties.
Their professional knowledge and the steps they take.
Impartiality and sense of responsibility.
Their success in educating students at the undergraduate, master's, and doctoral levels.
Their ability in representation and negotiation.
Their diligence and sensitivity in protecting the interests of the institution they work for.
Their ability in complying with and implementing laws, regulations, directives, and internal procedures.
Administrative duties.				